State Board Revokes Two Professional Engineers' Licenses

At its meeting on April 13, 2011 the Ohio State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Surveyors voted to revoke the professional engineer registrations of Edward DeTullio and James Edward Welp.

Edward DeTullio, a resident of Berea, Ohio, was charged with violations of Ohio Revised Code Sections 4733.151 (A) and (G), 4733.20 (A) (1) and (5), 4733.22 and Ohio Administrative Code Section 4733-35-09 for failing to complete 15 hours of continuing education and falsely reporting on his annual renewal that he had completed the annual continuing education requirement. DeTullio was given several opportunities to provide documentation to the Board to demonstrate that he completed the continuing education. DeTullio did not respond to the Board. Based on his failure to provide evidence that he completed the continuing education the Board voted to revoke DeTullio's professional engineer registration.

James Edward Welp, a resident of West Chester, Ohio, was charged with violations of Ohio Revised Code Sections 4733.151 (A) and (G), 4733.20 (A) (1) and (5), 4733.22 and Ohio Administrative Code Section 4733-35-09 for failing to complete 15 hours of continuing education and falsely reporting on his annual renewal that he had completed the annual continuing education requirement. Welp was given several opportunities to provide documentation to the Board to demonstrate that he completed the continuing education. Welp did not respond to the Board. Based on his failure to provide evidence that he completed the continuing education the Board voted to revoke Welp's professional engineer registration.
